

January 27, 2015

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have had the opportunity to work with J J Red Commercial Roofing LLC on the Collin County Wells Building Roof Replacement project. The project team, headed by Robert Edwards, was organized, professional, and dedicated to completing the project. The project included a new roof, then framing, insulating, and installing OSB inside a farm museum while not harming the display equipment. J J Red also maintained a safe environment for everyone while working on the site.

On behalf of Collin County, I would recommend J J Red for any roofing project that they may pursue.

Please feel free to contact me if you wish to personally discuss this recommendation or have any questions.

Sincerely,

Bill Burke
Collin County
Director of Construction Projects