Isa. 55:8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Thank you all for your prayers and your faithful support for us and the work that our Lord has set us to. We are excited that the doors have been opened up at the community center. From my last letter We have one new family coming that just moved in from New Orleans they have two little boys. Plus a couple more single guys.

The ladies Bible study group that Annette teaches is also growing some of the ladies have been bringing there friends. Please keep praying for the salvations of all these new souls the Lord has brought our way.

This past week we were able to witness to, two different folks that we met while trying to find the owners of a dog that followed me home during my walk. So we will see what becomes of that. A lady named Tray and a young man named Lance. I am always amazed how our Lord works through the circumstances of what is going on in our life.

We are planning on doing a Christmas presentation for the community on December 21. We ask that you would pray for the outreach in this. We will also be doing our Christmas caroling which the community seems to love here. This time of year seem to allow for more contacts with folks which of course we are thankful for.

The last letter I spoke about some of my health issues. My echocardiogram did not come out so well it was 41 and it was working at sixty one the last time I had one done. They are thinking maybe I am getting to much thyroid medication. So they have backed me off on the amount and I will test again in three months. My Brain MRI came back good there was no tumors or shrinkage in the brain or water on the brain and no discoloration in the white matter. All good news for that but dose not explain why I am having such problems with my short term memory. So the doctor is trying to get me an appointment with a neurologist we are hoping they can find some answers. We would covet your prayers for this because there are days I have a hard time knowing what day it is.

We had the great pleasure of hosting one of Andy Sturm members. We always love to have folks come so they can see the work and what the Lord is doing. Plus you seem to make life time friendships. They are in Cincinnati Ohio. Plus if you haven't heard please pray for the healing of brother Andy, he and another brother were in a car accident and were banged up pretty good.

We are now experiencing the volcano that we live on is going off. This is the first time since we have lived here that this has happened. We had warnings to be packed and ready to evacuate because they weren't sure which direction the flow was going to go. We are praising the Lord that so far it is not coming Down our side of the mountain. It is flowing in a great area as of now because there are no homes to be damaged praise the Lord. They told us if it dose open up on our side we would only have two hours to get out. The last time it'd flow down our side I guess it only took four hours from the cauldron to the ocean. This makes for some excited people. We just pray for Gods continual mercy!

We trust that you all had a wonderful thanksgiving: for us it was extraordinarily good! Seeing as how last year it was on Thanksgiving day that Annette had complete heart failure and it took quite a bit to get her back and she is now able to host at our home which loves doing. Our Thanksgiving dinner had 37 people coming from church and the community. There are many that live here and don't have families. So this makes for great opportunities to show the love of God to them.

We wish you all a wonderful Christmas and happy New year

Your servant in the Lord ,

Tim Chace
